

What We Do

Pangea SI is a platform for research in the Energy, Natural Resources, Chemicals and Infrastructure sectors.

We provide direct consulting engagements, connecting leading market-embedded subject matter experts to investors and corporations looking to improve the speed and quality of their professional learning.

Accelerating The Energy Transition

"Pangea SI is the only platform dedicated to helping businesses access the information they need to accelerate their decarbonisation and energy transition initiatives in an economically viable way"

The Services We Offer

We understand that hiring does not make sense every time you are looking for granular information, and that many businesses seek to remain lean whilst attempting to add value.

Our consultation formats provide great flexibility for clients and faster access to insights. At a minimum, all clients can expect to obtain a high-quality custom expert solution for their project.

These are the main ways you can engage with our experts:

Telephone Consultations

The fastest, most efficient way to access insights from around the world. Select your preferred Pangea SI Experts from a custom-sourced shortlist, matched specifically with your information request.

Face-To-Face Meetings

One-to-one, Groups, Panels or Workshops - make connections in person and have deep dives with top-level professionals operating in your fields of interest.

Full Strategic Research Design & Execution

We can harness the power of our network to design and execute projects for busy clients. A combination of services brought together to form an exclusive, custom-built solution.

Reports and Executive Summaries

Have an evaluative document produced for you by a subject matter expert in the space you are investigating.

Why Our Information Is Stronger And More Actionable

Pangea SI Expert engagements enable our clients to identify opportunities more quickly.

“One of the clearest parts of the ROI is the time I save. I can look into so many extra projects compared to Googling and (not) figuring things out with colleagues.

The fact that literally any knowledge is available on tap really speeds things up.

The information is stronger, too. We are often scratching our heads on things and trying to see if what we know internally is relevant – but it takes a long time to become a genuine expert in something!”

What Our Clients Have To Say

“I'm one of the sponsors for our project with Pangea SI. I had the pleasure to attend the first consultation my team had with one of their Experts, and I am writing this as I listen to the recording of the most recent 2-hour session.

These have been some of the most comprehensive, factual and honest "briefings" I have experienced in years. I'm glad the Experts agreed to connect with our project and to help us with their extensive experience. Appreciated!”

Senior VP of Sales and Trading IT
- Uniper

“By engaging with a market specialist who knows a lot about the subject we needed, rather than making use of more general 'consultants' that know a little about a lot, we were able to cover a very significant number of questions in the time we had with them, and in a much more granular way than we could have through other research methods.

We were positively surprised by this way of doing research and will definitely consider this again in the future, if we need information about a specific topic!”

Business and Sales Analyst
- Oiltanking

“I very nearly didn't give Pangea SI a shot and to be honest I had few initial expectations. I was positively surprised that they were so on my wavelength. They delivered a really high-quality solution to me exceptionally quickly - it was really easy from my end and the results of our partnership have been very positive.”

Pricing

Clients sign up for a number of credits, typically over 12 or 24 months. Volume discounts apply, so the more credits a client signs up for, the cheaper the price per credit. Primarily, our clients have their interactions over the phone, as it is the fastest and most cost-effective way to interact with consultants from anywhere in the world.

However, the service can be accessed in any format a client desires: face-to-face meetings; reports; group and panel discussions; etc., and these come at varying credit costs.

Purpose Driven Business

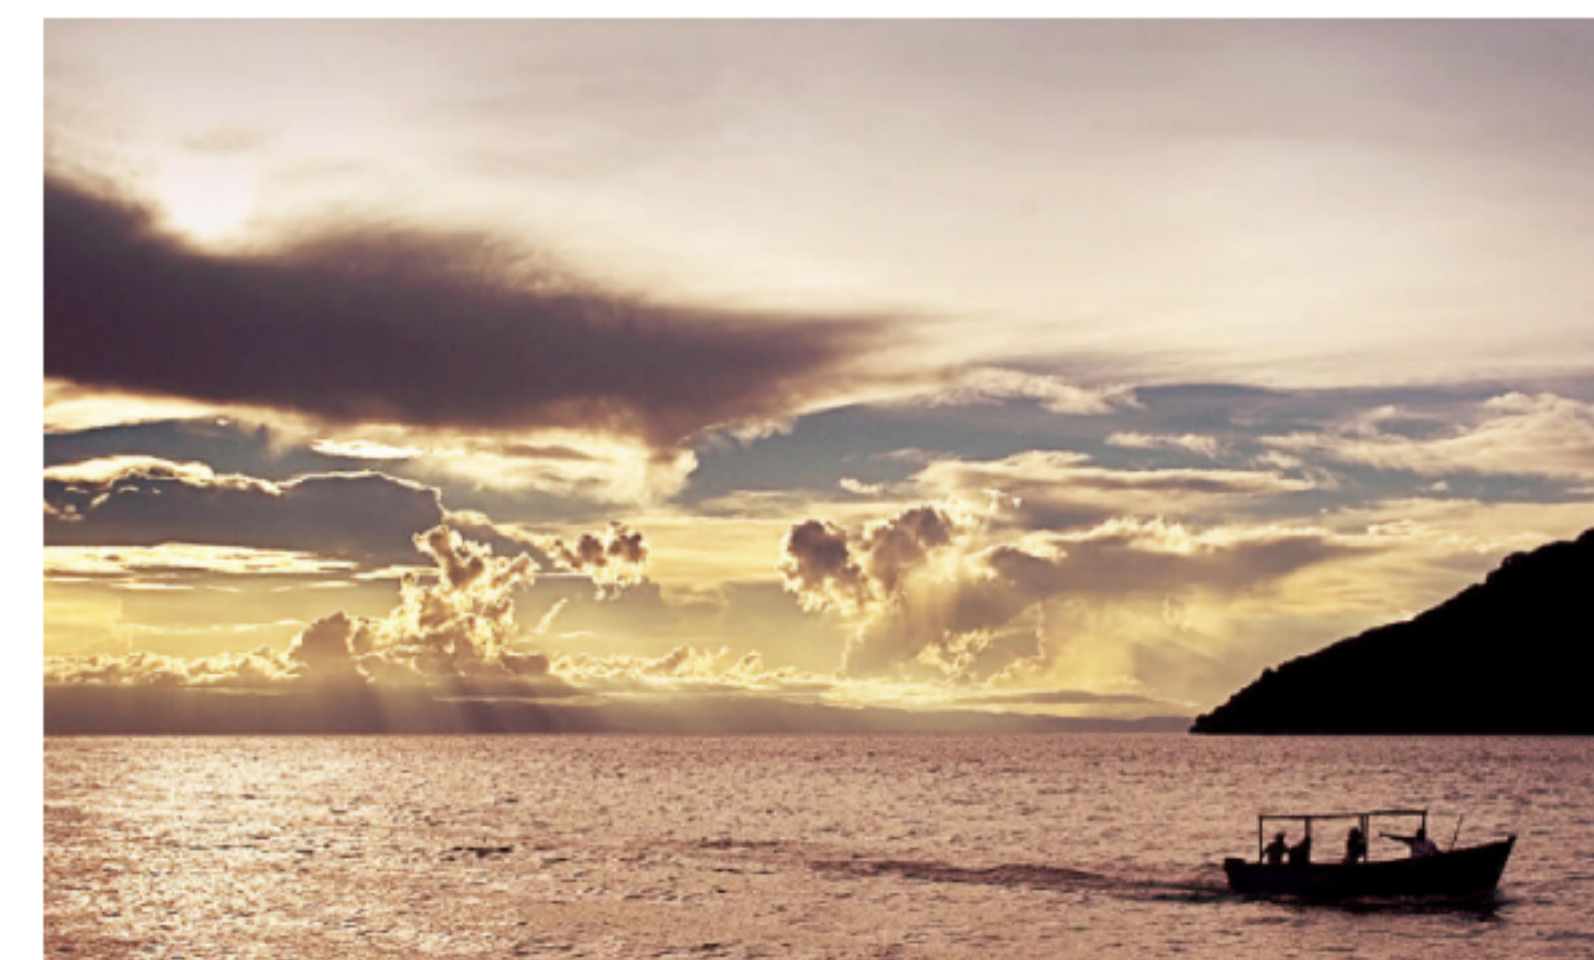

5% of Pangea SI's subscription revenue goes to good causes through the Work for Good platform. Half of the donation from each subscription is given to a charity chosen by the client, while the other half goes to local community causes.

Our goal is to be a leader in facilitating the conversations that will help our sector towards attaining more sustainable methods of producing energy; to enable companies in our area to accelerate their own journeys within the wider context of the energy transition; and to assist clients with their evolution in becoming businesses of the future.

The initiatives we have supported include the building of solar-powered serving centres in Malawi, which have provided sustainable education and food hubs for local communities and stimulated socio-economic mobility.
